

Miriam Slater is a California artist who also loves to collect beautiful things. She has put together several collections of exotic fashions that are also depicted in her artwork. The first collection (put together by Slater in the 1970's) featured exotic eyeglasses from the fifties which are often referred to as "butterfly" frames or cat eyes and these can be viewed at butterflyeyeglasses.com. The collection of Japanese hair ornaments was begun in the 2000's at the same time Slater began her series of geisha paintings.
